

SCRIBE REPORT RUN 1794

Saturday 26 September, 2020

Hares: Saint Blow Job, Fungus & Flying Dickhead

phuket-hhh.com

The Weather Spirits gave us a rain break this week, well done hares. Having been forewarned to apply mosquito spray the resulting gas cloud from 600 squirts protected the entire laager. Eager to hit the trails runmaster Fungus called in a surprised virgin horn blower Bunnyken Pis. Running along beside her as a kind of blowing coach was Invisible Man who apparently became just that out on the trail when he couldn't keep up with her.

Run offenses started with the hares in the circle, and they stayed there some time. Announcements brought in Just In Beaver donning another curtain caveman outfit and began reading a tome worth of details for the coming weekend Outstation Run which is sure to be a success from the huge effort of JIB and Go Go Trump.

Fungus brought in co-hares so SBJ could corroborate that FD had been so crippled with his bad back that he could probably accompany us to lay paper, which he did and with great suffering, if the moaning was any indication. An hour into this ordeal SBJ and Fungus walked to the left of a downed tree and FD strayed to the right. Suddenly FD's back was miraculously healed before their very eyes as they watched FD jumping into the air screaming and flailing all over the place like a big bag of snakes, completely uninhibited by anything like a bad back. Bees? Scorpions? A king cobra? No, he'd seen a spider. No wonder the rubber tappers shake their heads whenever they see us coming.

Today Fungus got caught out for having enticed Bunneken Pis to be Horn Blower by providing Invisible Man a detailed map of the run including falsies, descriptions and distances. Fungus and IM, on the ice! Fungus, being American, yelled for evidence as Jungle Balls slowly open a sodden, folded map complete with numbered falsies and terrain descriptions, which JB promptly wadded up and dropped into Fungus' down down cup. Invisible Man was iced for having been overheard at several points along the trails saying to Bunneken Pis “this is where we stop and retie our shoes, they'll be back”.

Manneken Pis got Fungus and Bunnyken Pis in to thank Fungus, who'd been working for several weeks encouraging Bunnyken Pis to blow the horn. As it turned out she told MP who also encouraged her as he coached her blowing skills, saying to her over and over “show me again what a check sound like”. Hearing this Too Old To Fuck immediately got excited and asked Fungus if Good Jobs could be horn sometime soon.

OnON, Fungus, Scribe Click here to see more pictures