Hares: Gorgeous, Lucky Leck, Invisible Man & Fungus

phuket-hhh.com

Hares hare for the excitement and delight of putting together runs like today's combing exceptionally great running trails of length, beautiful vistas, water falls to look at close by a tumbling water fall to cross and even one the runners had to climb up through. Top-shelf. As to the laager site there are few more beautiful. The properly landscaped garden stretched down to the water and had large sit-upon rocks offering up its own form of social distancing for small groups of hashers enjoying visiting and catching up.

We hope to list K.Supa's nearby restaurant on PH3 News Page soon.

We couldn't get Santa to Steward today but we at least had the right silhouette. Super Steward Jaws called in the Thai connection women, lined them up giving each a line to remember and repeat as he sang through the 12 courses of The Twelve Days of Christmas, but with about the most perverted list of sexual actions that the girls really struggled to sing. Absolutely brilliant Jaws.

The GM and Wilma put on a supper delicious Danish Christmas buffet. Wilma even had Danish desert for a great finish. Invited by the hares the property staff and a few locals joined us for food.

A big thanks goes to the five walkers that carried and delivered bags of food staples (5 kg rice, cooking oil, fish sauce, canned fish and mama) to a hut-dweller about 1 km along. This is one way PH3 supports the caretakers of some of the land areas we run through.

Run Offenses were few but we did get a funny story out of Gay Pig Fucker and Fungus hearing how they about died from hundreds of bee stings earlier in the week. Funny afterward that is, but not during the event!! Hares hare for excitement...

GM closed the circle commenting that in his opinion any run that he comes in first on is automatically a good run, followed by complimenting the hares for the stupendous laager site and Christmas food. Assterix tried to get a hash-shit called saying Fungus has 49 hash-shit calls and only needed one for for a special 50-Hash-Shit shirt. But the circle wasn't buying it and Good Run was called leaving Campari (represented by Who The Fuck Is Alice) holding the Hash Shit another week.

Circle Closed

Merry Christmas
