Hare: No Hope

phuket-hhh.com

Hare extraordinaire No Hope, Ha Ha Ha shirt awarded today, laid out a great set of trails for the runners winding them through several very nice rubber plantations, at least one field of young pineapple, several water crossings, one with some nice messy shite, several small bridges, some tall green grass, a bit of pasture with a troop of curious cows and even a lake. Falsies and checks worked as you would expect with No Hope, keeping the pack together and within sight of the racing idiots up front. Somehow NH arranged a set of very dark clouds to visit us just as the runners got back to the laager making for a very enjoyable way of washing down for the circle.

We welcomed one virgin who once iced jumped on the Runmaster's bike headed home, FOYC sang the circle. Peanut has returned and looked as if he hadn't seen the sun for a very long time, like forever. He didn't get much sun today but the rain was warmer than in England. Welcome Back. Cock Taster earned his 50-Run shirt, well done CT, now on to your 100 Run shirt.

We had a light turnout today. Some claimed driving 28 minutes is OK but 38 minutes isn't, figure that one out. We haven't been in this area for years and yet some of the best running on the island is found here.

Run Offenses were very few and certainly none involving the hare or trails. Mainly were claims and counter claims about racing, short-cutting and not calling OnON by the front running bastards. Nothing new here.

Jaws showing his arms aren't long enough—to the rescue, Fungus' glasses.
Then came the police!!

Invisible Man gave us another brilliant steward spot by having the police show up at exactly the right time in his plan. Everyone was incredibly impressed as the police were even using their flashing lights. Few stewards go to that extent of effort. Well done IM!

Always in the past POLICE = HASH SHIT. Will this happen this time? Check back. Circle Closed and all down-down cups were hastily passed out to everyone to help make them disappear. Some volunteers helped 3 down-downs worth. Clever hashers.
