Hares: Manneken Pis, Bunneken Pis, Piss Drinker

Finally the hares have broken a fundamental law of physics by having more uphill than downhill today but verified by nearly everyone doing today's run. Even the front-running bastards reached the laager in over an hour—automatic hash shit, but the lead hare Manneken Pis who also stood as the timekeeper claimed the FRBs were back in 59' 48" which brought immediate singing with the main word being bullshit. Lead hare MP, claiming a new rule that there is no lead hare and all hares are equal then spent half the circle complaining that his co-hares caused all the cock-ups related to misplaced signs, not enough paper, not working together and more. (Privately he was heard to say he'd cut a deal with Bunneken Pis--sex for good run and he was determined to make it happen as it'd apparently been a while.)

Today's steward was Murkury who said anyone making noise would be iced. Immediately Fungus and Manneken Pis started laughing not knowing Murkury was serious until Murkury put Fungus on the ice. Apparently Murkury doesn't understand the difference between noise and laughter—which is quite understandable considering Murkury is probably the least funny person in the hash. From here Murkury's spot went down hill as endless interruptions prevented his doing anything but sputter for most of what would have been his spot while Fungus' butt went evermore numb. Good spot Murkury!!

Numbered run shirts were awarded to Creepy Porker and On Her Back for reaching 25 Runs and super hash flash Ya Ba was teased into her 200 Run shirt. Well done to all. New shoes were spotted on our returning visitor from Belarus who was invited to drink a down-down from them. Welcome to the hash.

We had a couple virgins today who were properly iced down by Fungus, much to the amusement of the guys watching a fully-filled tee-shirt go transparent. Lucky Fungus kept reminding her to keep her hands behind her back, as is proper.

Although the circle was good with lots of laughter and nonsense somehow it fizzled just as the hares were called in for their judgment—no one wanted to sing. Since MP was a hare Fungus stood in as runmaster and worked hard at getting the circle to call Hash Shit, but even this failed when Egg Shagger, the current hash shit holder and only one that could safely call hash shit stood silent. Well it wasn't for lack of trying,

Goo Run was called and the circle closed.
