Hares: Murkury & J.C.

BLUE SHIT earns her 50-Run shirt—well done!!

Today lead hare Murkury earned his 150th hare shirt, bright and yellow so he can be seen at night shuffling home after dark. Earning this is no small feat. Just think of the 750 (150 x 5) hare beers this equates to. Add to this the 600 bottles worth of down-down beers for that haring and you start to see some of the hidden suffering hares go through. Even more suffering credit needs assigning to Murkury's co-hare JC who's weighs in at 170 hares. At least now you get the idea where some of your registration fees go—on the ground & down the toilet!

AND WE NEED A SCRIBE AND WE NEED A HASH FLASH!!

Volunteer, give it a try, see the GM.

As to the run it was a spectacular layout these 2 most senior hares gave us. Taking into consideration the jungle is bone-dry and the daily temps are above normal these senile goats laid, as described by many, a 45-minute nasty climb up and a 15-minute decent. Wow! At least the laager was a thumbs-up for the view over Patong, or would have been if the sky wasn't thick with pollution haze from no rain and we could have seen it.

Explaining PH3 activities are for the majority of the hash, not the minority, GM Invisible Man disappointingly announced the cancellation of the Outstation 2024 run. Fewer than half of our normal Saturday attendees had signed up. Hash Cash will begin returning deposits and we'll leave the details online for a few days for people checking, so if you're interested in seeing what we've turned down click here.

We had a number of Visiting Hashers from Texas. They seemed to be enjoying our hot, humid weather a lot compared to their open desert lands filled with rattlesnakes and Texans. To help we made sure they got plenty of time cooling their Texas' butts on the ice.

Swollen Colon, our steward, opened by getting Na Hee Man off the ice then giving him a beer put him right back on—where he stayed and stayed. SC threw some shiggy at the Australians and their sheep habits—some said he was speaking from personal experience, which could be true. As always from SC we get a great spot, thanks.

Our Virgin visitors were properly welcomed with plenty of ice water on their backsides causing a few to body jerk sending beer down their noses. Welcome to PH3!

Departers were sent off with GM feigning interest in where they were headed and Returners were welcomed back with that same feigned interest. Repressed One kept chiding in “ask them what they had for breakfast”. Nice guy RO is—he needs a good case of poison ivy!

Our circle was endlessly interrupted by one of our newest hashers, Insolent Beluga, named just last week. He was more than 10 times on the ice for talking, interrupting, causing noise, annoying others, and more. Having the silhouette of a Beluga the ice did him well. It came as no surprise to anyone that with Good Run being called for Murkury's 150th and the urge to give someone Hash Shit a quickly growing chant of Beluga—Beluga arose from the circle. Insolent Beluga—back on the ice and welcome to Hash Shit.
