It's very wet at the moment in Phuket and run numbers were down today to a mere 71, including 3 virgins (Alexander, Wana and Kit) and 7 visitors, but it's good to see the hash stalwarts and die-hards turning up despite the downpours. I think numbers were also depleted as some of the light-weights and those who'd rather not spoil their hair-do may have given up en-route to the hash as it was raining cats and dogs on the journey in.

The laager was at one of our regular haunts at Chalong dam. The rain eased for the start of the run, but hit with a vengeance after about 20 minutes. Tree cover helped keep us dry for a bit, but underfoot it was quite slippery and some of the crevices turned into mud slides which made for a smoother descent (on your arse), however some of the climbs were quite tricky, but were all taken in the stride of the front running bastards and the following pack.

Run offences included Manneken Pis for having the lead but then losing it, and Piss Drinker, On The Game and Scammer for going the wrong way and costing the front runners an extra 15 minutes. Today's Steward; Joxymoron called Jessica into the circle to supervise Substandard in the role of Joxymoron's beer bitch, but then the real beer bitches were called-in to do a proper job, as they always do in their inimitable style.

Ex GMs were next, followed by the Tinmen and the hares. Wilma called Up the Back and Substandard into the circle to explain a pre-run offence of being nob-heads¹ for not being able to find the correct Supercheap or 7-11 (that were glaringly obvious to see) which were pick-up points for the Tinman run. Fungus's chatting-up skills were discussed, as was Butt Plug's wedding. Jaws and Sheeba were next, Jaws in turn called-in Butt Plug to explain more about his impressive and varied collection of butt plugs.

Today's run rating had a 70% satisfaction rate and the inebriation rate was moderate. 😊
