The Pre-Run

This week's walk/run was just at the top of the hill on the road from Chalong Circle to Katu. Laager site could be reached along Soi Hinkaaw and provided good parking facilities either side of the Circle. In addition there was a further exit route which meant vehicles did not have to pass through the Circle once it was in operation. The Hares that chose this location certainly knew their stuff.

The Run and Hares

Hares this week were Sweaty Bollox, Baldylocks & Bjorn To Run. The role of Hash Horn was carefully selected to be Bimbo as he was a good runner and had never been a Hash Horn before. Strangely he did not seem so keen when his name was called out. However as a good Hasher he stood up, accepted the role and did a good demonstration of the Hash calls.

Sweaty Bollox gave the instructions for the run which was basically multicolour paper all the way for the runners interspersed with a blue colour paper marked short cut. So the junction point wasn't missed SB asked everybody to repeat after him 'walkers left up' and 'runners down right' so that everybody was clear (maybe) as to what they should do at the junction point. He then confirmed that where the short cut rejoined the main trail it would be marked for a short distance with blue paper on one side of the trail and multicolour on the other side. With all that done the runners and walkers were then sent on their way.

I should point out I was one of the Hares for this week's Hash and had already decided that I would have a wander round the route once the last walker had left the Laager site. This I did and was quite surprised how quickly I passed the first few walkers and saw others in not such a good state as they went up the first hill – my thoughts were how would they were going to manage the rest of the walk. So I pushed on so I could get a good vantage point to see how all the runners and walkers were doing on a loop at the top of the hill. When I got there the runners had just completed the loop and were now heading down the trail on the other side of the hill. Some walkers still had a way to go but Shagarazzi was there to collect them all and sent them down the other side as well. Once they were all on their way I then followed.

It was quite slow progress down the narrow path but eventually the walkers all got down to the first check point and I arrived to find the back enders disappearing to the right on a falsie with no sign of any pink paper. I had to call them back and send them further on the down the hill on the true trail.

Things then improved as they made their way down the last bit of hill and traversed across to the split point. By the time I got to the split point the runners were long gone down the hill and most of the walkers were now out of sight up the hill. What was left was a few stragglers including children with blisters etc. I accompanied them up the first part of the hill and seeing what the time was, suggested to one of the much more experienced Iron Pussy ladies whether we should consider a bit of a short cut back to the Laager. This was agreed and as they knew the trails well here took the short cut back. Once I knew they were on their way I ran back to the Laager so I could greet all the runners and walkers as they came in but none were to be seen but eventually the first walkers arrived who had completed the whole trail followed by the first runners. Interestingly enough these first runners were saying Good Run Good Run and the straggling walkers thanking me for the help I had provided. I rest my case m'lord.

The Circle

GM started the circle by calling in the Hares and the Hash horn for a drink and thanking them for their time and efforts and also made the comment that if you thought that run was hard he had it on good authority that it was a down graded version of a much tougher run. There was mention of pink paper and that it would be discussed later. Repressed One was asked to give his verdict of the Horn His comments were unprintable

Lucky Lek was called in for Annoumen which he did.

Wilma came in to remind people of the next Kamala Koma and that registration will be opening soon for May's Outstation extravaganza. Keep a watch on the website for further details

SB came in to say that it was his birthday the day before and as he was also a Hare offered 40 Baht beers with no hint of bribery.

Registrars Jaws and Invisible Man were called in to list the Virgins of which there were 3. Definitely a week for knee pads – very stoney. Did wonder if Johnny was the grown up subject of Registrar Jaws's 'Little Johnny' jokes.

Visiting Hashers – Two Visiting Hashers this week – Dick Jockey from Dubai and Miscarriage from The Gold Coast in Oz..

Hash Shirts None this week.

Steward Spot - This week's Steward spot went to the team of Paper, Pole Position and Lucky Lek. They called a few people into the circle and to form themselves into pairs. They then had to make two lines facing each other with a banana and a Covid style mask each to be used as a blindfold. I wasn't actually sure what the object of the game was but did know that Gobby (who else!!)

was the outright winner as she took the whole banana into her mouth including the hand that held it. Great spectacle and much fun and laughter had by everybody.

Good spot Paper, Pole Position and Lucky Lek!

Run Offences etc

Run offences this week covered such aspects as monkey impersonations, GM disrespectfulness, new shoes, hash calls ignorance, multiple overtaking, not calling, being Jimmy Saville, massage games, visiting the Isle of Wight, screaming and shouting on the run, suspect practices, incorrect spelling, non synchronisation of presence, too many hills, pinkless paper, non long-flat-hard runs, greasy leaves, hares being where they shouldn't be (apparently), failure to give details of next week's run by the hares who are both Run Masters and should know better, saving woman, children and those less fortunate.

Promoters were Fungus, GM, Jungle Balls, Swollen Colon, Wilma, Invisible Man, Not Long Enough, Bluey, Piss Drinker, Philthy Pisshead, Sweaty Bollox, Tequila Slapper etc.

Offensive ones were Manekin Pis, Repressed One, Piss Drinker, Top Off, Ex GM's, Johnny, Wilma, Swollen Colon, King Klong, Flying Dickhead, Philthy Phil, Polish My Crabs, The Hares, Bimbo, BA (BC), Sweaty Bollox, Campari, Tootsie, Tequila Slapper, Shaggarazi etc. etc.

Joxy Moron led the proceedings for the Hashit which is still not held by anybody. Joxy ticked off the various good points i.e. good venue, good signs, good directions, good falsies etc. He then went onto what were considered not so good aspects – run in excess of 60 minutes, greasy leaves, Bjorn to Run level of hills, no paper on top of the hills.

When put to the vote there was a begrudging 'Good Run, Good Run' and slightly more enthusiastic 'Hashit, Hashit'. As a result of this vote the Hashit was awarded and went to Baldylocks and in the words of Joxy 'Good Call' Good Call.

GM then announced the first boat was arriving (oh sorry! wrong week) and the Circle was declared closed.

On On!
